CONFERENCE SUMMARY

The optimal education and assessment of medical students, emergency medicine residents, and emergency medicine fellows, and the effective management of emergency medicine residencies and educational programs are continuously evolving processes. Teaching to adult learners who have grown up in the technological age requires innovative didactic and assessment tools and an understanding of best practices in teaching and assessment. It is also necessary to respond effectively to an increasingly complicated regulatory environment, including the ACGME’s Next Accreditation System, the institution of Milestone-based competency assessment, and the increasing focus on Patient Safety and Quality Improvement initiatives.

Residency and student management demands multiply every year. Maintaining professional and personal balance and successfully advancing a career focused on education in emergency medicine is a constant challenge. Collaboration between emergency medicine programs, specialties, national emergency medicine organizations and accreditation associations facilitates and enhances resident and medical student education, assessment, and program management. The 2019 CORD Academic Assembly will provide a spectrum of expert panel discussions, didactic sessions, interactive small group breakouts, research presentations, and consensus working groups, all specifically designed by and for educators in emergency medicine to address the needs of our unique teaching environment. It will also have a focus on mentoring, collaboration and coaching of faculty, residents, fellows and medical students.

CORD AA 2019
Better Together — Mentoring, Collaboration, Coaching

OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this conference, emergency physicians and program coordinators will:

1. Incorporate milestones-based assessment tools into the training of emergency medicine residents.
2. Improve the written and verbal assessment and remediation of medical students and emergency medicine residents.
3. Incorporate advances in online learning, small-group discussion and lecture design, simulation and emerging technology to more effectively educate medical students and emergency medicine residents.
4. Discuss methods to support faculty development, promotion and life/career balance in academic emergency medicine.
5. Share cutting edge educational research and innovations and develop the skills to perform high quality educational research.
6. Review the latest RRC-EM updates, program requirement revisions and best practices in resident and medical student education.
7. Incorporate novel educational innovations, teaching methodologies and curricula to enhance the experience of emergency medicine resident and student learners.

CONTINUING EDUCATION CREDIT

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint provider-ship of the American College of Emergency Physicians and the Council of Residency Directors in Emergency Medicine. The American College of Emergency Physicians is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The American College of Emergency Physicians designates this live activity for a maximum of 21.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)TM. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Approved by the American College of Emergency Physicians for a maximum of 21.5 hour(s) of ACEP Category I credit.

Welcome from the Chairs

On behalf of the CORD Academic Assembly Planning Committee, it is with great pleasure and honor that we welcome you to Seattle, WA for the 2019 CORD Academic Assembly. This year our conference theme is Better Together, and as you know, this is also CORD’s 30th anniversary. We are very excited to celebrate with all of you and we hope that you enjoy beautiful Seattle and all that is has to offer.

CONFERENCE HIGHLIGHTS

Keynote Address by Dr. Judith Tintinalli
What better way to celebrate our 30th anniversary than to hear Dr. Judith Tintinalli, the first President of CORD, as our prestigious keynote address? Join us on Day One from 1:30-2:30pm in the Regency Ballroom, 7th floor.

Emphasis on Coaching, Mentoring, Diversity and Inclusion
In line with our theme of Better Together, there will be new speaker coaching and a focus on mentoring that highlights our unique ability to collaborate, mentor and help one another within CORD. Don’t miss the CDEM focused session on mentoring URM, LGBTQ and women EM applicants on Day Three.

Inclusion and Diversity
The Better Together theme also applies to inclusion and diversity. CDEM will be having a focused session on mentoring URM, LGBTQ and women EM applicants, and similar sessions will be found throughout the programming in various tracks.

EMRA Event
EMRA events continue to deliver amazing programming for your residents. Must attend events include Quiz Show, Chaos in the ED, EMRA Representative Council Meeting & Townhall, and the EMRA Party, it promises to be an exciting and fun time.

Chief Resident Symposium
Will your new Chief Residents be prepared for their new role? They will be if they attend the Chief Resident Symposium at CORD! The symposium is in its third year at Academic Assembly and provides your Chiefs with the leadership and management skills necessary to have a very successful chief year.

Tracks, Tracks, Tracks!
The tracks you love are back!
• Best Practices integrates the best resources and ideas for educational programs in EM.
• Navigating the Academic Waters targets junior faculty providing development, mentorship, and advice to help advance career goals.
• Interested in how technology and education intersect? iMedEd is the track for you.
• New Programs and Leaders targets faculty who are new to leadership positions in EM education. They provide you with all the tools necessary to be great in your new role.
• Clerkship Directors in Emergency Medicine (CDEM) provides you with indispensable tools to enhance your Undergraduate Medical Education.
• The Resident Track is back with amazing programming targeting residents. If you are a resident considering a career in education, this is where you need to be!
• The EMARC track has new and amazing programming to make your job as a program administrator even better than it already is!
• Advances in Education Research and Innovations hosts moderated e-poster sessions and highlights some of the best research in the Best of the Best!

Themed 340 and 560 sessions
In addition to the great track programming, we offer a series of focused 560 sessions designed to address hot topics. Come join these high yield short talks and leave with lots of new ideas to take home to your program.

CPC
The two half day CPC semi-finals allows everyone an opportunity to attend CPC and still participate in other exciting CORD programming. Think you have what it takes? Try to solve the diagnosis!

Free Afternoon
Day Two continues in the tradition promoting wellness by scheduling a free afternoon to explore the Emerald City. Haven’t made plans? Check with the CORD Customer Service Desk to register for one of three fun city tours — hurry as space is limited. Enjoy some free time with your program’s team members, family or friends, or just take an afternoon off for yourself. Go ahead, you deserve it!

As always, there are many opportunities for networking at CORD Academic Assembly — extended time for networking lunches (be sure and pick up your VISA gift card at the CORD Customer Service Desk), Safari Dinners, a rocking Closing Party at the Museum of Pop Culture (MOPOP) and so much more!

We look forward to seeing you in Seattle!

MARCH 31 - APRIL 2

PROCEEDS OF SALES BENEFIT THE CORD CARES FOUNDATION
CORD is 30!
We want you to Celebrate with us!

IN HONOR OF OUR BIG ANNIVERSARY, WE’RE CHANGING THINGS UP!

Instead of the standard conference lunch, you’ll receive a $30 Gift Card to explore and enjoy some of Seattle’s best foodie neighborhoods during lunch on March 31–April 3, 2019.

After checking in and receiving your badge, pick up your $30 Visa Gift Card at the Registration desk.*

*Only one gift card per registrant. To qualify for the $30 gift card, you must be registered for the entire conference (March 31–April 3, 2019). You must present your official 2019 CORD Academic Assembly Conference badge to receive your card. No other form of ID will be accepted. You cannot pickup a gift card for anyone other than yourself. This $30 gift card is to supplement lunch for March 31 & April 2, 2019. CORD will not be providing lunch March 31–April 3.

Afternoon Off — Tours!

CORD Chihuly Tour ($57)
2:00 – 4:00 PM  Limited to 30 attendees
The guided tour will take you through the inspiration and influences that inform the career of artist Dale Chihuly, the Exhibition includes eight Galleries, the centerpiece Glasshouse and a Lush Garden. The centerpiece of Chihuly Garden and Glass is the Glasshouse. A 40-foot tall, glass and steel structure covering 4,500 square feet of light-filled space, the Glasshouse is the result of Chihuly’s lifelong appreciation for conservatories. The installation in the Glasshouse is an expansive 100-foot long sculpture in a color palette of reds, oranges, yellows and amber. Made of many individual elements, it is one of Chihuly’s largest suspended sculptures. The perception of the artwork varies greatly with natural light and as the day fades into night.

CORD Pike Place Market Tour ($57)
2:00 – 4:00 PM  Limited to 16 attendees
This Eat Seattle chef food tour takes you on a journey through the best artisanal vendors in the famous Pike Place Market. Get the inside scoop on where chefs shop and locals hang out. What makes our tour unique? Chef’s Tour: Though many tourists are attracted to the famous Pike Place Market every year, local chefs also selectively choose their seasonal produce and proteins daily from the market. This tour gives us a taste of the vendors that supply the best chefs in town with their organic produce and sustainable seafood. Tours are run by chefs who contribute a culinary perspective, telling the story of the Northwest through its food.

CORD Chef Guided Chocolate & Coffee Tour ($68)
2:00 – 4:00 PM  Limited to 16 attendees
This downtown walking tour takes your palate on a discovery of the most delicious chocolate and coffee in Seattle. Visit a bean-to-bar factory, savor ganache confections made with real ingredients and learn about the iconic Fran’s salted caramel. Explore the coffee scene both new and learn about roasters who have shaped the industry. Get tips and tricks from your chef guide on how to improve your cup of Joe in the morning or make your own sweets at home. All highlighted companies are local Seattle businesses with a story that stems from a passion to source soundly and make decadent sweets or beverages. This is a unique way to explore Seattle, its small businesses and savor our local delicacies.

MERC

7:30 AM – 1:00 PM

MERC1: Formulating Research Questions & Designing Studies
Faculty: Sheila Chauvin, PhD, MEd
In this workshop, participants will brainstorm research ideas, write, and refine a measurable research question. They will discuss when IRB approval is required for their study. The basics of research design will be discussed and applied to their selected research question. Participants will be able to:
- Write a FINER (feasible, interesting, novel, ethical, relevant) educational research question;
- Specify an educational research area of interest;
- Evaluate whether they need IRB approval for their study;
- Select the correct design for their research question.

1:00 PM – 5:00 PM

MERC2: Searching & Evaluating Medical Education Literature
Faculty: Sheila Chauvin, PhD, MEd
This workshop is intended for individuals, medical educators, and clinician educators who want to learn how to effectively search the published medical education literature and to evaluate the value of those searches. After participating in this workshop, learners will be able to:
- Formulate an effective approach to searching the medical education literature;
- Conduct a search using relevant MeSH headings;
- Communicate effectively with a research librarian;
- Evaluate the search results using specific review criteria.

Day One
Sunday, March 31, 2019

1:30 PM — 2:30 PM

KEYNOTE Session

Keynote
Faculty: Judith Tintinalli, MD, MS
She received her MD from Wayne State University, and completed residency training and received her MPH from the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. Dr. Tintinalli was the founding president of the Council of Emergency Medicine Residency Directors.

8:45 AM – 12:00 PM

MERC3: Introduction to Qualitative Data Collection Methods
Faculty: Sheila Chauvin, PhD, MEd
This workshop is intended for physicians and generalists in medical education, as well as faculty and staff involved in student affairs, who wish to develop perspectives and skills for collecting qualitative data, such as data from focus group discussions, interviews, observation field notes, and responses to open-ended questions—used in admissions processes, program development, curriculum evaluation, needs assessments, performance evaluation, and various scholarship and research applications. After participating in this workshop, learners will be able to:
- Demonstrate applied knowledge of the appropriate selection, use, and standards for rigor of some common methods for collection of qualitative data.
- Generate research questions appropriate for qualitative studies and choose appropriate data collection methods;
- Demonstrate applied knowledge of approaches to achieve rigor in the design of qualitative studies and collection of qualitative data;
- Demonstrate essential skills required for conducting focus groups.

Best Practices (BP)

8:45 AM – 9:15 AM

Positive Feedback Made Viral
Faculty: Kathleen Lee, Lauren Conlon, Amy Waldner
Fostering a positive interprofessional culture is essential to an effective work environment, yet practical and low-cost solutions are difficult to find. This session will introduce a social and mobile platform that leverages digital communication and promotes a real-time positive feedback culture.

9:20 AM – 9:50 AM

330: Novel Evaluations
Faculty: Jeremy Branzetti, Nathan Scott, Danielle Hart, Katja Goldflam, Leah Bright, Stefanie Sebok-Seyer, Michael Gisondi
Evaluation and assessment are a cornerstone of any educational program. As competency-based medical education continues to be the dominant paradigm in medical education, efficient, novel, and effective evaluations become more important. This 330 session will highlight 3 unique sources of evaluations to help keep your learners on track.
- The Patient as Evaluator: Effective Use of Patients in Multi-source Feedback;
- Compare methods (and supporting evidence) to involve patients as part of a multi-source feedback program;
- Overcome commonly encountered barriers to using patients for feedback;
- Interdisciplinary Evaluation of Residents;
- Discuss the benefits and challenges of multi-source feedback and how best to relay contentious responses back to the receiving resident;
- Accounting for Interdependence in the Team Sport of Patient Care;
- Describe the concept of “coupling” and its implications for assessment;
- Recognize the significance of evaluating both independent and interdependent aspects of clinical practice.

10:15 AM – 10:45 AM

Competency-Based Handovers
Faculty: Holly Caretta-Weyer
Program directors find interns are unprepared for what is expected of them upon entering residency. The AAMC implemented the Core EPAs for Entering Residency to address this. Communicating competency-based data in the post-Match learner handover to GME is the next phase in bridging this transition.

10:50 AM – 11:10 AM

Mind the Gap: A Professional Development Series for Women in EM
Faculty: Abra Fant; PANEL: Allison Marshall, Danielle McCarthy, Priyanka Sista
Gender disparity exists in leadership positions in EM. Cited reasons include lack of mentorship, discomfort with self-promotion and delay in seeking promotion. Our Women’s Night series includes residents, faculty and alumnae from across the city through a series of evening journal clubs/workshops.

11:15 AM – 12:00 PM

Lessons Learned in Medical Education Research
Faculty: Michael Gottlieb, Jaime Jordan, Jeffrey Love, Nicholas Hartman, Laura Hopson
Combined BP & NAW
Educators are expected to produce scholarship, yet many educators struggle with performing research within medical education. This session will feature a panel of experienced medical education researchers discussing strategies for effectively producing research for the busy educator.

2:45 PM – 3:25 PM

340: Curricular Innovations
Faculty: Jeremy Branzetti, Kamna Balhara, Adriana Olson, Amy Ramsay, Cami Plennig, Jason Roteli, Linda Spillane

As the healthcare environment evolves, so must our teaching techniques. In this 340 session, speakers will highlight novel curricular changes they have implemented with the goal of sharing their successes, highlighting the pitfalls, and giving you the necessary tools to bring these innovations to your program.

Room of Horrors
• Understand key concepts of situational awareness and how they apply to emergency medicine and patient safety
• Be able to independently generate an experiential, simulation-based patient safety learning activity incorporating key concepts of situational awareness

Poverty Experience
• Discuss the bidirectional benefit of immersing resident physicians into a community engagement experience.

Community Collaboration for Cultural Awareness
• Highlight some strategies and the critical need to collaborate with community members from different subgroups in simulation to practice the skills required to deliver equitable care to marginalized populations.
• Describe key components of a successful workshop, simulation and assessment by providing examples of workshop development, describing the simulation and debrief session, and identifying which milestones can easily be incorporated into this activity.

3:40 PM – 4:20 PM

It’s Not You it’s Me: Implicit Bias in Resident Selection and Education
Faculty: Lucienn Luft-Clayton, Caitlin Schrepel, Liza Smith

This didactic will focus on understanding implicit bias and delivering tools to combat it. We will explore implicit bias by contrasting attendee responses to an implicit bias inventory and direct questioning.

4:30 PM – 5:00 PM

Pitfalls in Survey Design and How to Avoid Them
Faculty: Jaime Jordan, Andrew Phillips

Surveys are commonly used in education research; however, educators often succumb to common pitfalls in design, which significantly limit the conclusions that can be drawn from the results. This session aims to identify these pitfalls, describe how to avoid them, and provide best practices in survey design.

10:15 AM – 10:45 AM

I Read About It Online: EM Online Learning Communities
Faculty: Robert Huang, Ryan Buckley, Adam Nicholson, Rob Turer, Oliver Hulland

EM-bound medical students are turning to online learning communities (like SDN and reddit) for advice, mentorship, and support. We will examine how these communities provide camaraderie and a safe space to vent frustrations, and how formal advisors can help students navigate them.

10:50 AM – 11:10 AM

NCAT EM: Two Years of Use
Faculty: Kathy Hiller, PANEL: Jules Jung, Luan Lawson, Doug Franzen

An update of the first year of analysis (second year of use) of the NCAT-EM at the consortium sites. We will be able to provide validity evidence based on 3000+ NCAT-EM forms submitted. Time permitting, we can do assessor development, translating.

11:15 AM – 12:00 PM

Validity Evidence in Emergency Medicine Assessment and Evaluation Tools
Faculty: Kathy Hiller, David Wald, Damon Kuehl, Sarah Ronan-Bentle, Jules Jung, Dana Dunleavy, Michael Beeson

A side-by-side comparison of the tools commonly used by EM educators (USMLE, EM-ACE, National EM M4 exams, SLOE, NCAT, SVI, Milestones, ITE, QE, etc.)

12:00 PM – 1:30 PM

CDEM Mentoring Lunches
Faculty: Sharon Bord, Kendra Parekh

This session will provide CORD attendees the opportunity to network with colleagues as well as senior faculty members within their CDEM area of interest. The room will be divided into various topic tables, such as ultrasound education/social media/new program directors to allow attendees to engage in discussion within their specific field of interest and maximize their experience.
• Connect with leaders within the CDEM and CORD community.
• Discuss pertinent topics within, but not limited to, the CDEM experience.
• Network and collaborate with colleagues.

2:45 PM – 3:05 PM

It Takes a Village: Engaging Community Based EM Preceptors in an Innovative Model of Medical Education
Faculty: Robert Lam

There has been a marked increase in learners from interdisciplinary backgrounds that seek EM experience in their training. Community based EM preceptors can provide additional resources but are best engaged as part of a program with an innovative education model and based on faculty satisfaction.

3:05 PM- 3:25 PM

It Takes a Village: Promoting Resident and Faculty Involvement in Medical Student Education
Faculty: Kendra Parekh, Charles Lei, Ryan VanNostrand

Delivering a successful educational program to medical students requires the contributions of many residents and faculty members. In this session, we will discuss strategies for promoting resident and faculty involvement in medical student teaching and mentorship.

8:45 AM – 9:15 AM Coaching Students to Success During Mid-Clerkship Feedback
Faculty: Jose Nable, Jacob Isserman, Janet Smereck, Rahul Bhat

Mid-clerkship formative feedback sessions can be challenging, time-consuming, and awkward. We will present best practices to prime students to succeed during their EM clerkship. Strategies aimed to coach learners of different levels of performance will be highlighted.

9:20 AM – 9:50 AM

Be the Captain of Your Mentor-ship! How to Enhance the Mentee Part of the Relationship
Faculty: Megan Fix

We often discuss mentorship, but what about mentee-ship? Studies show that the mentor-mentee relationship can be enhanced utilizing a “managing up” approach where the mentee takes ownership of the relationship. This session will arm faculty to be better mentor/mentees by utilizing this framework.
4:00 PM – 4:20 PM
Students, Students Everywhere! How to Incorporate Emergency Medicine Across All Four Years
Faculty: Nicole Dubosh, Ed Ullman
As medical school curricula continue to bring clinical experiences earlier and earlier in training, there is ample need and opportunity to increase emergency medicine presence in undergraduate medical education.

4:30 PM – 5:00 PM
Goodbye Millennials, Hello Gen Z!
Faculty: Jennifer Jackson, Anne Messman
As Millennials age, a new generation, GenZ is upon us. This session will compare/contrast Millennials and GenZ through an interactive exercise, reviewing ways to adopt educational content to meet learner needs. This session will include clerkship and residency perspective.

Chief Resident

11:00 AM – 12:00 PM
We Survived! Stories and Lessons from Former Chief Residents
Faculty: Gina Waight PANEL: Raquel Harrison, Brian Wood, Joel Park
Chief residents often encounter challenging situations that they may have to navigate without formal training. In this discussion, former chief residents will share narratives from their own chief year, describing these challenging moments, how they handled them, and lessons learned.

2:30 PM – 3:45 PM
Innovation and Collaboration: Building Connections Between Chief Residents
Faculty: Fareen Zaver, William Deng, Derek Monette, Katie Wells, Tanner Gronowski, Evan Kuhl
In this workshop chief residents will participate in facilitated small groups to network, collaborate, and brainstorm common challenges they face in their programs. By participating in the group discussion chief residents will be able to benefit from the shared experiences of their peers at other programs to improve their own institutions.

4:00 PM – 4:30 PM
Towing the Party Line as a Chief Resident
Faculty: David Haider, Shannon Toohey
In this presentation, you will hear from both a faculty member and a resident regarding the various (and sometimes conflicting) expectations of a chief resident. This presentation will be formatted as a back and forth between an APD and resident discussing what qualities leadership looks for when selecting chief residents and what their peers generally expect. We will aim to highlight the various hats we expect our chiefs to wear and plan for a Q&A at the end.

4:30 PM – 5:00 PM
Chief Hacks
Faculty: Viral Patel, Richard Church
This session is intended to discuss common questions that arise for chief residents and issues that outgoing chiefs describe as things they wish they knew prior to assuming their role.

Emergency Medicine Association of Residency Coordinators (EMARC)

8:45 AM – 9:15 AM
Welcome & Networking
Faculty: Jana Ricker, Melanie Pigott

9:20 AM – 9:50 AM
Coordinators — Spotting a Resident in Distress
Faculty: Michele Dorfsman, MD, Larissa Lindquist, Michele Dorfsman, MD, Larissa Lindquist
The session is designed to provide participants with pearls on identifying trainees who may be at risk for depression, anxiety, substance abuse, or other risky behaviors. The speakers have experience in working with trainees with depression with suicidal ideation, among other stressors, and will share real-life experiences.

10:25 AM – 11:10 AM
Talk Techy To Me
Faculty: Melanie Pigott, Jessica Burkhalter, & Patrick O’Brien
Let’s talk tech! A panel discussion on technology available to Program Coordinators — in particular QR codes (Quick Response Codes). We will focus on what QR codes are, how they can make the coordinator’s life easier, and how it can enhance a program’s efficiency in document management.

11:15 AM – 12:15 PM
EMARC — Where Do We Go From Here? OUR Future is NOW — Are You Ready??
Faculty: Michael Epter
Throughout the years there have been many adaptations within CORD as an organization and also within EMARC. The session will be led by CORD’s Immediate Past President along with a past & current EMARC BOD liaison and will be OUR opportunity to discuss what makes us outstanding and where we have opportunities for improvement in order to unleash the potential we have. When you leave this workshop you will have helped to set the path for our future — are you ready?

12:45 PM – 1:30 PM
Working Smarter with SmartSheets
Faculty: Ryan Van Otten
Through the use of Smartsheet, a software service application for collaboration and work management, we have been increasingly successful in managing and organizing our educational programs.

2:45 PM – 3:25 PM
The ACGME Site Visit: Knock It Out of the Park
Faculty: Richard Bounds, Vicki Noble, Jenna Fredette
Preparing for an ACGME site visit, for either initial or continued accreditation, requires countless hours of work, attention to detail, and thoughtful delegation to team members. This session will provide tips for success, with a panel discussion that includes program leaders who have recently completed their site visits. Here how these PDs prepared, what lessons they learned along the way, and how to get your staff and residents on board with a positive message. Speakers will offer an approach with an organizational framework and timeline, tasks for delegation to faculty, preparation materials for dissemination of information, and strategies for engaging key stakeholders. At the end of this session, attendees should have a clear idea of what is required of an ACGME site review, and how to best prepare.

3:40 PM – 4:40 PM
Practical Advice for Coordinators: Completing the ADS Annual Update
Faculty: Kandice McLeod
Practical advice given to coordinators on how to navigate the ADS Annual Update with minimal to no errors. Explanation and walkthrough given in each area of the ADS update and explanations as to common reporting errors that can potentially result in adverse action against the program by the ACGME.
4:50 PM – 5:00 PM
How Much Conference Does It Take?
Faculty: Matthew Hysell, Matthew Hysell, MD
Residents frequently start to fall short of the 70% required conference attendance rate. The next question that arises is how many they have to attend to reach 70%. This presentation will demonstrate a simple formula to provide the answer. It can also be inputted into an excel spreadsheet.

iMedEd

8:45 AM – 9:15 AM
So You Want to be an Entrepreneur?
Faculty: Adam Rosh
A dream is something you fantasize about that may never happen. A goal is something you set a plan for, work toward, and achieve. This session will help you set goals, provide you the tools to get started as an entrepreneur, and help turn your idea into a business.

The Future of Medical Education
Faculty: Felix Ankel
How can we prepare for the future? What is signal and what is noise? Knowledge is expanding at an exponential rate and we are using traditional linear techniques to learn it. While Augmented Intelligence (AI) will not replace physicians; physicians who don’t use AI will be replaced by those who do. Professional future identities are changing. This session will provide an overview of future casting as a model and method for anticipating the future. We will explore the role and relationships between and among knowledge, agents and networks in health professions education.

10:15 AM – 10:45 AM
How to Build a Culture of Innovation in Your ED
Faculty: Paul Casey
This session will discuss strategies for building a culture of innovation and continuous improvement in your department. We will introduce fundamental quality improvement tools and discuss successful approaches to change management. We will also discuss the application of lean management philosophy to drive a culture of experimentation and daily improvements.

10:50 AM – 11:10 AM
What’s up with What’s App? Managing Residency Dynamics in the Era of the Group Chat
Faculty: Robert Huang, Adam Nicholson
Group chat platforms (What’s app, Group me, and iMessage) have become a popular method of communication. This session will discuss the benefits (rapid/convenient communication, group bonding) and potential harms (lack of professionalism, negative impact on morale) on residency dynamics.

11:15 AM – 12:00 PM
How to Have a Successful Residency Social Media Program
Faculty: Zack Repanshek, Jennifer Repanshek, Alisha Brown
The rising popularity of social media for both professional and personal purposes is undeniable. However, its presence creates new challenges for junior physicians from both a professional and ethical standpoint. As educators, we must play an active role in guiding and advising them how to be lifelong learners and excellent stewards of social media. In 2014, CORD made a strong recommendation that each emergency medicine residency program develop a social media policy and education effort. Achieving this goal may be seem like a daunting task, but there are solutions to creating successful social media platforms as part of a residency program. We present our experiences implementing a social medial curriculum at two different institutions.

2:45 PM – 3:25 PM
When Tech Fails: Technology Isn’t Always the Answer
Faculty: Dimitri Papanagnou, Eric Shappell
This session will cover common pitfalls encountered when integrating technology into education interventions and how to avoid them, including alternative educational strategies.

3:40 PM – 5:00 PM
Open House
Faculty: Michael Gottlieb, Fareen Zaver, Michael Barrie, Tanner Gronowski, Katarzyna Gore, Matthew Klein, Scott Witt, Chris Gaafary, Glenn Paetow, Andy Little
Attendees will get hands-on explanations and tutorials about cutting-edge technology that they can apply to facilitate their teaching. The Technology Open house will feature experts who will teach participants about Virtual Reality, Slack, Evernote, Mendeley, Screencasting, Google Hangout, and AirTable. The experts will be available to discuss the tools and how to use them throughout the entire session. Participants can go to areas that are of most interest to them for hands-on training sessions.

Navigating the Academic Waters (NAW)
8:45 AM – 9:15 AM
How to Conference
Faculty: Collyn Murray, Jason Wagner
First time at a conference? This session serves as an introduction to the ins-and-outs of attending academic conferences. Directed at novice conference goers, the session will focus on planning conference days, capitalizing on limited sessions, networking, and finding freebies in a “how to” review.

9:20 AM – 9:50 AM
The Future of Medical Education
Faculty: Felix Ankel
A dream is something you fantasize about that may never happen. A goal is something you set a plan for, work toward, and achieve. This session will provide an overview of future casting as a model and method for anticipating the future. This session will discuss strategies for building a culture of innovation and continuous improvement in your department. We will introduce fundamental quality improvement tools and discuss successful approaches to change management. We will also discuss the application of lean management philosophy to drive a culture of experimentation and daily improvements.

10:15 AM – 10:45 AM
How to Have a Successful Residency Social Media Program
Faculty: Zack Repanshek, Jennifer Repanshek, Alisha Brown
The rising popularity of social media for both professional and personal purposes is undeniable. 2:45 PM – 3:05 PM
How to Get What You Need: Designing and Conducting an Effective Needs Assessment
Faculty: Laura Hopson
Essential to designing an effective curriculum, solving a problem, or programmatic change is to understand the current state. This session will guide participants through the steps of executing a needs assessment.

3:05 PM – 3:25 PM
A “How to” Guide for Qualitative Analysis: Use, Interpretation, Successful Implementation
Faculty: Laura Hopson, Jaime Jordan, Lainie Yarris
Qualitative research provides a unique opportunity to define questions around educational topics. Used appropriately, it provides a springboard into additional research questions. This session will introduce approaches, techniques, strengths, and limitations as well as tips for success.

3:40 PM – 4:20 PM
Time Management 440
Faculty: Jason Wagner, Taher Vohra, Todd Taylor, Brett Todd, SueLin Hilbert, Adam Reeves
We are often the biggest obstacle to our own success. Tasks that bring us the most satisfaction or are essential to academic advancement end up against the bottom of our to-do list. This session will help you prioritize the items on your over-flowing plat of To-Do’s. Talks will build the foundational theory behind time and task management, move to techniques to improve efficiency, and finally discuss apps that will help you implement the discussed frameworks into your everyday life.
- Learn the latest time-management strategies.
- Understand the key components of a productivity system.
- Learn components of a personal organization system for tasks and documents.
- Discover the obstacles we place in the way of our success, and how to overcome them.

4:30 PM – 5:00 PM
Pitfalls in Survey Design and How to Avoid Them
Faculty: Jaime Jordan, Andrew Phillips
Surveys are commonly used in education research; however, educators often succumb to common pitfalls in design, which significantly limit the conclusions that can be drawn from the results. This session aims to identify these pitfalls, describe how to avoid them, and provide best practices in survey design.

New Programs & Leaders (NPL)

8:45 AM – 9:50 AM
Inside the RRC
Faculty: Edward Stettner; PANEL: Phillip Shayne, Wallace Carter, Christine Sullivan, Suzanne White
A panel discussion with former members of the RRC about what goes in to the accreditation decision and site visits.

10:15 AM – 11:10 AM
560: Curricular Creation & Design
Faculty: David Duong, Jordan Spector, James Waymack, Brian Wood, Katja Goldfani, Christina Sherwi, Timothy Fallon, Megan Stobart-Gallagher, Chaiya Laotepitaks
These 560 sessions will help the new residency program or a new PD or APD create successful curricular components to your program, or help you buff and shine what you already have. Check out some of these “tricks of the trade” in curriculum development for the EM residency program.
- Develop a basic quality curriculum for residency education that can integrate with hospital and community partners to achieve quality and patient safety education and generate scholarly activity from quality and patient safety projects through collaboration and organization
- Describe a model of resident-faculty teams in planning didactics with benefits of these teams for both residents and faculty
- Present specific ways to involve faculty, pharmacists, nurses, and patients into conference in a meaningful manner and discuss the importance of recognition of effort to faculty engagement, and ways to provide it practically.
- Provide examples of successful curricular innovations that can be easily implemented with limited structural change to the didactic schedule and need for faculty participation and enhance resident participation, engagement, and satisfaction.
- Use the principles of cognitive load theory during clinical teaching to maximize learning.
- Develop a working understanding of the principles cognitive load theory.

11:15 AM – 12:00 PM
Anatomy of the CCC
Faculty: Eric Steinberg, David Carlberg, Timothy Fallon
APDs are responsible for running Clinical Competency Committee (CCC) semiannual meetings, yet sometimes are provided little guidance on how to run them efficiently and effectively. CCC meetings can be fraught with non-productive discussion, hurt feelings, and wasted time. This session is directed toward new leaders who want practical tips and advice, before, during, and after the actual CCC meeting.

2:45 PM – 3:25 PM
The ACGME Site Visit: Knock It Out of the Park
Faculty: Richard Bounds, Vicki Noble, Jenna Redette
Preparing for an ACGME site visit, for either initial or continued accreditation, requires countless hours of work, attention to detail, and thoughtful delegation to team members. This session will provide tips for success, with a panel discussion that includes program leaders who have recently completed their site visits. Here how these PDs prepared, what lessons they learned along the way, and how to get your staff and residents on board with a positive message. Speakers will offer an approach with an organizational framework and timeline, tasks for delegation to faculty, preparation materials for dissemination of information, and strategies for engaging key stakeholders. At the end of this session, attendees should have a clear idea of what is required of an ACGME site review, and how to best prepare.

3:40 PM – 4:20 PM
Emergency Medicine Residents: Bias in Feedback
Faculty: Mira Mamani PANEL: Lalena Yarris, Fiona Gallahue; Kevin Scott
Delivering effective feedback remains challenging with studies indicating that conscious and unconscious biases can play a role in the feedback process. Furthermore, literature suggests that these biases can affect the training, career selection, and advancement of certain groups of people. This session will be a collaborative multi-site approach to understanding, acknowledging and addressing biases in feedback. Speakers plan to share some literature on the prevalence and impact of bias in graduate medical education, followed by a panel discussion of strategies.
4:30 PM – 5:00 PM
Program Leadership Lessons
Faculty: Philip Shayne
Dr. Shayne will share experiences and lessons learned across multiple leadership positions:
- Lessons on how to develop and lead teams
- To offer lessons to those on a similar path.

Resident

8:45 AM – 9:25 AM
Fellowship or Bust
Faculty: Holly Caretta-Wyer, Paul Kukulski; PANEL: Lindsay Flax; Adaira Landry; Kendra Parekh
In this panel session, a diverse group of faculty members and recent graduates will discuss considerations in the decision to pursue a fellowship or academic position after residency. We will address important questions such as: Is a fellowship important to reach my career goals? What resources are available to someone who is trying to decide on a fellowship? What is it like to stay at one’s own institution, versus going to a new program for fellowship? What certificates or advanced degree options are available post-residency, and what are their benefits?

9:25 AM – 9:55 AM
Resident Finances 101
Faculty: Eric Shappell, Ryan McKillip
Should you use that extra money to invest or pay down loans? This session will cover common financial issues that residents face, including loan repayment strategies, disability insurance, investing, and financial advisors. The session will begin with general strategies and conclude with a brief Q&A to allow for targeted questions.

10:15 AM – 11:00 AM
Work Deep, Get Productive! 10 Tips for Ramping up Your Research
Faculty: Michael Gottlieb
In the era of constant e-mails, “pings,” and smartphone alerts, it can be difficult for residents to make progress on cognitively challenging tasks, such as research or scholarly writing. This session will introduce attendees to the idea of “deep work,” and review 10 easy-to-implement strategies to increase your productivity.

11:15 AM – 12:00 PM
Riding The Waves: Tips to Flourishing in Residency, Both Personally and Professionally
Faculty: Farhad Aziz, Andrew King, Christopher Doty, Geremihia Emerson, Simiao Li-Sauerwine, Lauren Branditz, Carolyn Martinez
Burnout is real. In recent years, the focus on wellness in emergency medicine has taken center stage. However, how are residents really coping with residency? What are residents and their programs doing to help? This will be a faculty-led small group discussion on different topics that pertain to resident wellbeing, with time for breakout small group discussions with colleagues.

2:45 PM – 3:15 PM
Teaching “On the Fly”
Faculty: Tyson Pillow, Moises Gallegos; Jeff Liu
This session will explore a variety of methods that residents can use to engage medical students or junior residents to engage learners, teach effectively, and create an environment of learning during otherwise busy clinical shifts.

3:15 PM – 3:45 PM
Mentoring Medical Students as a Resident
Faculty: Jaron Soulek, Julie Dodson, Brian Milman
In this lecture, we will explore ideas and techniques for serving as a mentor to medical students as a resident, with the goal of contributing to the educational experience of medical students.

Specialty

7:00 AM – 8:00 AM
How to Get Involved with CORD
Faculty: Christopher Doty
Ever wonder how folks become a track chair, board member or other leader in CORD? Mostly it is just a matter of putting up your hand and being willing to do a little extra. However, for a few more details, come chat over breakfast with Chris Doty as he shares with you some thoughts on getting involved in CORD.

8:00 AM – 10:00 AM
Remediation Consult Service
Faculty: Kelly Williamson
The remediation task force (RTF) offers a consult service to aid CORD members with challenging remediation processes. This session offers an in-person consultation service with members of the RTF. Participants can bring their questions, problem cases, or a listening ear and receive recommendations.

10:00 AM – 12:00 PM
Diversity Consult Service
Faculty: Jeremy Branzetti
Diversity is an ongoing problem with emergency medicine training and practice without easy solutions. Using the success of the Remediation Consult model, a Diversity Consult service of experts can be created to help programs with their specific diversity challenges. Programs will be asked to submit their diversity-related challenges to the committee and received collective feedback on recommended actions.

11:30 AM – 1:00 PM
Education Research Consult Service
Faculty: Jaime Jordan

12:00 PM – 1:00 PM
ASC-EM Advisor Consult Service
Faculty: Aleksandr Tichter; Lynn Jiang; Margaret Goodrich; Nida Degesys
In this session, we will provide a roadmap for becoming a standout resident. From the obvious to the occult – learn the strategies that will optimize your success and help you get the most out of your training experience.
Best Practices (BP)

8:00 AM – 8:30 AM

CCS Squared: Creating a Constructive and Comprehensive CCC
Faculty: Michael Ehmann, Linda Regan, Leah Bright, Logan Weygandt, Christina Tarleton
Combined BP & EMARC

A description of the iterative process to improve the efficiency of our program’s biannual CCC reviews. We will share how we streamlined our process to comprehensively review our 48 residents’ clinical competency in one 8-hour meeting every 6 months.

8:30 AM – 9:00 AM

Education Journal Club
Faculty: Esther Chen, David Duong, David Gordon
Combined BP & CDEM

Do you find it challenging to keep up with the latest and greatest medical education articles of 2018? This session will review the most pertinent medical education articles of 2018.

9:10 AM – 10:15 AM

Torpedoes in the Water: Getting Sunk by a SLOEpedo
Faculty: Adam Kellogg, Tom Morrissey, Jamie Shandro, Emily Hillman
Combined BP & CDEM

An interactive session including examples from actual, de-identified SLOEs, where we discuss writing fair SLOEs for the less competitive. We will also discuss advising students recognized to have a “SLOEpedo” in their application.

10:20 AM – 11:00 AM

Winning the P&T Game: How to Optimize Your Time Management for Academic Productivity
Faculty: Holly Caretta-Weyer, David Jones

Scholarship is required for promotion; however, medical educators have an enormous amount of demands on their time that prevent scholarship from occurring. In this session, we will develop a time management system that takes into account both current time demands and education scholarship goals.

11:00 AM – 12:00 PM

Curricular Innovations 560
Faculty: Rebecca Bavolek, Leah Bright, Michael Barrie, Timothy Koboldt, Christina Shenoi, Amita Sudhir, Charlotte Lawson, W. Gannon Sungar

This session will be a rapid fire of innovations to give some unique ideas on how to teach difficult topics and how to solve some of those didactic issues that many programs commonly face.

Emergency Medicine Association of Residency Coordinators (EMARC)

8:00 AM – 8:30 AM

CCS Squared: Creating a Constructive and Comprehensive CCC
Faculty: Michael Ehmann PANEL: Linda Regan, Leah Bright, Logan Weygandt, Christina Tarleton
Combined BP & EMARC

A description of the iterative process to improve the efficiency of our program’s biannual CCC reviews. We will share how we streamlined our process to comprehensively review our 48 residents’ clinical competency in one 8-hour meeting every 6 months.

8:30 AM – 9:00 AM

EMARC Business Meeting
Faculty: Melanie Pigott, Jana Ricker

Open to all EMARC members (how to get involved, what is EMARC up to, what do you want from EMARC)

9:10 AM – 9:40 AM

EMARC Track Planning
EMARC Track planning for CORD Academic Assembly 2020!

9:45 AM – 10:15 AM

Coordinator Wellness
Faculty: Sophia Isoff

A brief overview of strategies that promote wellness during working hours and at home.

10:20 AM – 11:15 AM

Program Director Loss: How A Program Rallied Together After The Unexpected Loss of Their Beloved Program Director
Faculty: Ann Hill; Stacie Miller; Mary McNatt

The sudden loss of a program director can be devastating. This session will show how an emergency medicine residency program came together to support each other as a “family.” We will also discuss how we continue to keep our PD’s legacy alive and continue their work in Emergency Medicine.
11:15 AM – 12:00 PM
PCPC- Program Coordinator Presentation Case
Faculty: Patrick O'Brien
A Residency Coordinator will put forth an administrative issue with a resident and explore the problem with the audience as a group, showing the collaboration of residency program leadership in handling a resident-related administrative issue.

8:00 AM – 8:30 AM
Maintaining Engagement on Social Media Platforms
Faculty: Derek Monette, Nikita Joshi, Matt Klein
Emergency medicine has led the charge for incorporating social media into our education and practice. But amid a sea of competing personal and professional demands, is it worth the effort to keep logging on? In this session, we highlight some of the ways by which social media may enhance your career and share practical strategies for maintaining engagement, or for becoming reengaged. After this session, participants should be able to: Recognize motivations for maintaining engagement with social media, including brand management and knowledge translation. Identify strategies for cutting through “the noise” on social media, finding online communities, and maintaining engagement. Identify a practical, balanced approach to incorporating social media into your daily or weekly routine while preventing “click fatigue.”

8:30 AM – 9:10 AM
Needle in a Haystack: How to Find and Evaluate Quality FOAM
Faculty: Fareen Zaver, Andy Grock, Teresa Chan, Mike Gottlieb
There are a multitude of blogs and podcasts available that provide Emergency Medicine educational content, but how do you know which ones are educationally sound? In this workshop, you will learn how to define quality within blogs and podcasts. You will then apply the skills to help find, curate, and evaluate educational content that is available online. Ultimately, these skills gained from this workshop can be used in your program to ensure that your learners are using effective educational content to learn.

9:20 AM – 9:40 AM
Taking Control of Your Social Media Profile
Faculty: Rob Cooney
This session will familiarize attendees with the common social media platforms and introduce strategies that will help them to control the profile of their programs and themselves as individuals.

9:45 AM – 10:15 AM
Developing and Refining Your Online Presence: A Hands-On Workshop
Faculty: Robert Cooney, Michael Gottlieb, Fareen Zaver, Teresa Chan, Nikita Joshi
This session is designed for participants to begin to develop an online identity. We will explore the use of common social platforms and how these can be used to create a personal “brand.” Participants will become familiar with tools that assist with content creation and distribution.

10:20 AM – 11:00 AM
How To Build Your Residency Brand
Faculty: Mike Gisondi, Jeremy Branzetti
In this session, attendees will learn the key principles of branding for educational programs. Brand image and brand experience will be discussed at the training program and department levels. The presentation will focus on the successful recruitment of residency and fellowship candidates.

11:05 AM – 12:00 PM
How to Utilize Social Media for Promotion and Tenure
Faculty: Mike Gisondi, Jennifer Beck Esmay, Felix Ankel
The promotions and tenure (P&T) process is important for all academics as they progress through their career. To succeed, one must showcase their scholarship in ways that are understandable to the P&T committee. Understanding the process of how to navigate the P&T process with scholarship that is increasingly digital (i.e., blogs, podcasts) is critical. While every institution has their own system, best practices are emerging for this process.

8:00 AM – 8:30 AM
Navigating the Academic Waters (NAW)

8:30 AM – 9:00 AM
Imposter Syndrome: Getting Out of Your Own Way
Faculty: Fareen Zaver; Natasha Wheaton
This lecture will be described how to pitch, write, and promote articles about emergency medicine and related topics [including Op-Eds] for mainstream media outlets. Specific focus will be on the tried-and-true structures that writers can rely on, and editors love.

9:45 AM – 10:15 AM
When Program Leadership and Parenting Collide
Faculty: SueLin Hilbert
How being an APD prepared me for motherhood and how I learned to be more supportive of residents and faculty as new parents.

11:00 AM – 12:00 PM
560: Mastering Your EM Identity
Faculty: Edward Ullman, Christina Shewi, Simran Buttar, Dimitrios Papanagnou, Anne Messman, Gannon Sungar, Jan Schoenberger, Edward Ullman, Rochelle Zarzar
Making the leap from resident or fellow to junior faculty is often the beginning of a journey without a map. This 560 session will give crucial tips to a successful launch of your academic career.
- Gain an understanding of the concept of managing up as an active engagement
- Understand and increase awareness of your own “dark side” traits - Identify core areas for personal development necessary to succeed as junior faculty.
- Techniques to assist in developing a “niche” to progress your academic career.
- Understand the concept of reframing and how it applies to leadership.
New Programs & Leaders (NPL)

8:00 AM – 8:30 AM
The Basics of Starting a New Residency Program
Faculty: Moshe Weizberg; Fiona Gallahue
A discussion to provide “all the basic tools one will need, to help develop faculty skills and ensure the creation of a stellar EM residency program. The speakers have both started new residency programs and are now established residency directors. They will share their experiences to share some tools to assist other new PDs as they build a new program. Speakers will also provide a handout on faculty development techniques.

8:30 AM – 9:00 AM
Teaching Culturally Responsive Care
Faculty: Glenn Pastow, Aarti Jain, Nate Scott, Rochelle Zarzar
This didactic session presents five unique methods for teaching culturally responsive care along with the learner outcome objectives in the cognitive and affective domains. Speakers will present real-world experiences along with the pearls and pitfalls of adapting these techniques to residency education. Presentation will be combined effort on lecture – alternating speakers

9:10 AM – 9:40 AM
Expanding Your Reach — Virtual Mentorship
Faculty: Maria Moreira; Saadia Akhtar
Mentorship is important for growth and career advancement. There are times when perhaps the best mentorship for you may be at a distance. This session will provide those seeking to be virtual mentor’s information on how to do so and also information on the pitfalls and advantages of this type of mentorship. For those seeking mentors, this will provide them with another potential avenue for mentorship.

9:45 AM – 10:15 AM
Our Collective Experience: Pearls and Pitfalls of Foundations Implementation
Faculty: Kristen Grabow Moore, Natasha Wheaton, Jeremy Berberian
“Foundations of Emergency Medicine” is a web-based learning resource for emergency medicine, offering a series of courses that are openly shared with EM residency programs around the USA. More than 120 residency programs have incorporated the Foundations curriculum in their training programs, and the body of knowledge and experience from Foundations site leaders has grown exponentially. In this session, diverse program leaders will share their perspectives and advice for making use of Foundations course resources and successful implementation at any program.

10:20 AM – 11:00 AM
How to Facilitate a Small Group Session
Faculty: Nicholas Hartman, Jaime Jordan, Lisa Moreno-Walton; Michael Gottlieb
Small group discussions form an essential component of instruction for EM learners. Many faculty are often thrust into the role of leading small groups without much formal training in how to do this best. This session will relay best practices; to help teach in ways that promote active engagement in learners – to address common issues (e.g. leaders who give answers, or who guide in a way that is too heavy handed or learners who have difficulty sticking to the ground rules, who interrupt, who dominate discussion, etc.) This session will provide leadership guidance and examples, and ways to deal with common issues.

11:00 AM – 12:00 PM
560: Beyond Nuts and Bolts
Faculty: David Duong, Jordan Spector, Elizabeth Gignac, Peter Moffett, William Peterson, Joseph House, Gene Herrn, David Duong, Angela Chen, Loice Swisher
These 560 sessions will offer solutions to several challenges a program director or an APD may encounter when starting or maintaining an EM training program. Speakers will offer ideas to help you recruit talented learners, to provide learners effective feedback, and to promote wellness. Check out these creative ideas to address common issues not addressed elsewhere — beyond the nuts and bolts!

Residents

8:00 AM – 8:45 AM
Let’s Be Real, You Need a Job Now
Faculty: Edward Lew, Tara Kenny
This session is intended to provide exposure to the different models and types of hospital jobs in the academic, community, and county settings. This session will help participants understand how different practice models affect financial planning and how your clinical practice changes with different hospital types.

9:00 AM – 9:40 AM
How to Succeed Your First Year Out
Faculty: Christine Shenvi, Nikki Binz
In this session, attendees will learn about ways to avoid career ending pitfalls as fresh new attendings. This session will shed light on situations that could make life difficult at your first job out — including burning bridges with ancillary staff, unwise financial decisions, and being locked into a restrictive contract. We’ll also talk about the positive things: how to set yourself up for success in your practice, your personal well-being, and your chosen career path!

9:45 AM – 10:15 AM
Social Media Snafus: Could You Be Next?
Faculty: Sara Paradise, Christian Ruiz
Whether a personal Instagram post, Twitter battle, or Facebook video outburst, we’ve all seen physicians in the national limelight for some not-so-positive reasons. In this session, we will highlight a few of these case examples and review why a social media post may not be so innocent.

10:20 AM – 11:00 AM
How to Get Where You’re Going and Lead While Doing It!
Faculty: Alicia Kurtz, Dhimitri Nikolla, Derek Monette
Do you ever wonder what it would be like to impact emergency medicine on a national level as a resident? In this session, attendees will hear from former resident superstars on how they got involved and thrived in emergency medicine on a national level, followed by Q&A.

11:15AM – 12:00 PM
CV Workshop
Faculty: Michael Epter
In this session, attendees will initially learn about the characteristics of a high-quality CV to improve your hire-ability. This talk will be followed by a CV workshop so attendees can receive real time feedback.

Research

12:00 PM – 1:00 PM
Educational Soundbites
Faculty: Bo Burns, Jeffrey Siegelman
New educational innovations are developed every year by creative faculty who design fresh ways to improve their didactics, bedside teaching, and procedural skill training. In this session selected presenters will discuss their novel approaches and educational solutions.
Day Three
Tuesday, April 2, 2019

Specialty

9:00 AM – 10:30 AM
CORD Business Meeting
Faculty: Christopher Doty
The CORD Business and Membership Meeting.

10:45 AM – 12:00 PM
RRC Update & Q&A
Faculty: Douglas McGee

6:00 PM – 8:00 PM
CORD Closing Reception
Museum of Pop Culture

Best Practices (BP)

8:00 AM – 8:25 AM
Social Emergency Medicine: Creating a Curriculum for Physician Advocates and Holistic Providers in the 21st Century
Faculty: Fiona Gallahue, Annie Chipman, Callan Fockele, Harrison Alter
Social EM (SEM) is an emerging area focused on understanding our patients’ context. EM providers confront the social determinants of health, but receive little dedicated education. We address this curricular gap by defining SEM, compare 2 existing curricula, and demonstrate how to create a curriculum.

8:25 AM – 8:50 AM
Teaching Clinical Efficiency: Tapping into a Learner’s Full Potential!
Faculty: Guy Carmelli, Mark Silverberg
Teaching efficiency, the art of maximizing productivity while minimizing wasted energy and time, is uncommon amongst EM programs. This session will define clinical efficiency, discuss supporting research, offer up ways to measure it, and discuss ways to incorporate teachings on efficiency into your curriculum.

1:30 PM – 2:35 PM
Coaching Residents: Competencies and Insights From Professional Coaches
Faculty: Melissa Platt, Magdalena Robak, Natasha Wheaton, Jeremy Branzetti, Dana Ferguson
Combined BP & NPL
While we often use the term “mentoring” many of our contacts with residents as educational faculty are in fact, examples of coaching. This talk highlights the recent focus on “coaching” as a valuable construct for learner development in medical education. The speakers will pull through the best of coaching advice from the sports literature and relate it to the professional coaching of our residents. This talk goes straight to the source, gaining insight into coaching practices from professional coaches, drawing from advice and philosophies of famous Hall of Fame coaches.

2:45 PM – 3:15 PM
Reaching the Reticent — Coaching Faculty to Make On-Shift Teaching Work
Faculty: Jamie Shandro, Laura Welsh
Every faculty member has the potential to foster on-shift teaching while balancing busy patient care. We will discuss common barriers to on-shift teaching, and outline coaching strategies to motivate and engage faculty to develop a personalized approach to make working with learners rewarding.

3:30 PM – 4:10 PM
Do Opposites Attract? Strategies for Effective Peer Coaching Programs
Faculty: Joshua Wallenstein, Jeffrey Siegelman, Todd Taylor, Michelle Lall, James O’Shea
Peer coaching is a highly effective skill not often included in faculty development programs. Facilitating audience engagement in mini-peer coaching sessions, the panelists will describe their experiences as participants in a year long peer mentoring program and offer suggestions for best practices.

4:15 PM – 5:00 PM
Resiliency 545
Faculty: Leslie Oyama; Jeremy Branzetti, Joel Moll, Kevin Keller, Al’ai Alvarez, Robert Lamm, Katja Goldflam, Leah Bright, Kelly Williamson; Elise Lovell
545 Sessions are [5] talks with a common theme that are given in succession over 45 minutes. This 545 session is centered around topics related to Resiliency during Residency and throughout one’s career.

Turn that Frown Upside Down
• List short and long term tools to change low program morale
• Cite examples of successful methods used to improve morale and build positive culture
• Develop a realistic timeline for culture change
• Identify factors that contribute to program morale and culture

Residency Retreat Redesign to Build Resiliency
• Outline the critical elements that must be included in a resiliency retreat for medical professionals
• Assemble a mini curriculum using the Stanford WellMD Professional fulfillment model
• Convert your previous retreat’s goals and objectives
• Create and define metrics for success and budget to justify a return of investment

Point of Care Resiliency
• Review evidenced based resiliency practices that can be used in the workplace
• Review literature on drivers of burnout

Resident Talent Showcase
• Explore the opportunities to connect residents and faculty on a more personal level outside of medicine.
• Describe a number of ways to implement these ideas in a concrete way.
• Illustrate success stories of how connections have been made and the impact it has had on our medical teams.

Flipping the Switch — Moving from Burnout to Resilience
• Define resilience and its role in protecting against burnout
• Provide tools to grow resilience in your residents in order to promote personal fulfillment and professional satisfaction

Clerkship Directors in Emergency Medicine (CDEM)

8:00 AM – 8:50 AM
Evidence Based Recommendations for the Visiting Student Application Population
Faculty: Tony Zhang, David Gordon, Doug Franzen, Joshua Wallenstein, Lucienne Lufty-Clayton, Jamie Shandro
Obtaining Emergency Medicine away rotations has become increasingly challenging with an increase in specialty popularity and applications. Recent literature has shed light on how clerkship directors evaluate away applicants, but there is limited qualitative data from applicants.
COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

9:00 AM – 9:30 AM
How to Find the Best Away Rotators (and How to Get Your Students Away Rotations)
Faculty: Hilary Fairbrother, Jonathan Giordano, Gowri Stevens
This session will focus on how to attract, screen, and accept visiting medical students to your institution and how to place your home students in away rotations that maximize their application for residency.

9:30 AM – 10:00 AM
Making a Path for the Most Vulnerable: Best Practices in Advising the “At Risk” Applicant
Faculty: Luciennne Lutty-Clayton, Kendra Parekh, Adam Kellogg, Tom Morrissey, Jamie Shandro, Mark Olaf, David Gordon
We will briefly discuss advising the “at risk” applicant along with current evidence in advising. This will be followed by small group sessions to discuss advising strategies for applicants “at risk” of not matching and attempt to gain consensus on best practices when advising these applicants.

10:00 AM – 10:30 AM
No Match Monday
Faculty: Jaime Shandro, Jennifer Jackson, Mary Ann Edens, Adam Kellogg
No Match Monday is a big challenge for all. This session will offer a pre-match risk assessment and advising checklist for at-risk students, as well as case-based advising strategies to use with unmatched students, including key considerations in the SOAP process as well as options beyond SOAP.

10:45 AM – 11:15 AM
The SVI and How to Have Your Students Ace It
Faculty: Jonathan Giordano, Hilary Fairbrother
A didactic session on how to prepare students for the AAMC’s Standardized Video Interview (SVI) and residency interviews.

11:15 AM – 12:00 PM
A Guide to Mentoring URM, LGBT, and Women EM Applicants
Faculty: Sharon Bord, Kendra Parekh, Adam Kellogg, Jamie Hess, Ronnie Ren, Nicole Nemore, Nehal Naik, Joel Moll, Audrey Bickel, Caitlin Bailey
This session will critically examine the challenges faced by underrepresented minority (URM), lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender (LGBT), and female applicants and trainees and discuss how best to support and mentor these individuals to successful careers in EM.

1:30 PM – 2:00 PM
SLOE 101: An Introductory Course
Faculty: Cullen Hegarty, Tom Morrissey, Sarah Ronan-Bentle, Matt Ryan, Damon Kuehl, Kathy Hiller, Chrissy Babcock
The Standardized Letter of Evaluation (SLOE) is a critical piece of the EM application process. Due to the value of the SLOE, it is important that new EM faculty get some basic coaching on the history of the letter, the form itself, and tips on how to write a great SLOE.

2:05 PM – 2:35 PM
Note Writing for Medical Students: How the CMS Changes Impact Their Notes
Faculty: Joseph House, Kathy Hiller, Miguel Arribas
With the change in CMS regulations there are changes coming to the medical student’s role in the Emergency Department. One complaint students often have is the lack of being able to take ownership of their patients, which includes note writing. This session will discuss what programs are doing to train their students to write notes and how programs have reacted to the changes in CMS regulations.

2:35 PM – 2:45 PM
Medical Student Documentation Feedback
Faculty: Mark Olaf
This session will present a novel tool to assist in the delivery of feedback to medical students regarding their documentation skills.

2:45 PM – 3:15 PM
CDEM Town Hall
Faculty: Luan Lawson, Kathy Hiller
This session will cover any late-breaking topics impacting medical student education as well as provide an update on CDEM activities from the CDEM leadership.

3:30 PM – 4:10 PM
Teaching Diagnostic (Cognitive) Error to Medical Students
Faculty: Dan Mayer, Sorabh Khandelwal, Brendan Munzer, Michael Cole
We must teach students and residents how cognitive errors lead to diagnostic error. Using the dual process theory of cognition this session will introduce methods of teaching prevention of diagnostic errors by reducing cognitive failures that can be exacerbated by practice conditions in the ED.

4:15 PM – 5:00 PM
345: Curricular Innovations in UME
Faculty: Kendra Parekh; Sharon Bord, Omar Guzman, Megan Henn, J. Scott Wieters
This session will focus on curricular innovations, including incorporating a social EM curriculum evidence-based medicine curriculum, and gaming into your courses!

Emergency Medicine Association of Residency Coordinators (EMARC)

8:00 AM – 8:50 AM
Adulting of the Milennial Intern
Faculty: Kristi Grall, Lori Barrett, Kelly Barringer, Rachel Dahms
Conveying expectations to incoming residents becomes more and more challenging. We are not all winners, and cause and effect is very real. This team has developed strategies using anecdotes and humor to communicate residency expectations to a generation of learners who lack real life experiences.

8:00 AM – 8:50 AM
VSAS Updates and Tricks
Faculty: Jessica Burkhalter
Clerkship Coordinators, UME coordinators lets talk VSAS.

8:00 AM – 8:50 AM
Program Coordinator Resources and How To Find Them
Faculty: Melody Cikalo; Dustin Hernandez
New Program Coordinators will learn the various resources, contacts, and common information that is available to them.

12:00 PM – 1:30 PM
EMARC Coordinator Lunch — Hosted by EMRA
Faculty: Jana Ricker
EMARC Coordinator lunch hosted by the Emergency Medicine Residents Association. Free to attend, prior registration required.

1:30 PM – 2:00 PM
Being a Residency Parent
Faculty: Carrie Chapman
I have found myself to be the Residency Mom for 17 years picking up on subtle/unsubtle cues from the residents and collaborating with the Program Directors to promote wellness and a family atmosphere among the residents.
1:30 PM – 2:00 PM
A Year In the Life of a New Coordinator
Faculty: Yinka Cardoso; Taher Vohra
Residency administration has varying work through the year. A coordinator’s 1st year is full of new skills and concepts. This creates unique onboarding and mentorship challenges compared to other jobs. We will describe the experience of a 1st year coordinator and successful mentorship strategies.

1:30 PM – 2:00 PM
Guess Who’s Coming to Visit
Faculty: Melanie Pigott
With the competition for away rotations increasing how can we better serve the students? What might we do to increase the number of seats across the country? What are program expectations for application? How involved are clerkship coordinators in the screening/selection process?

2:05 PM – 2:45 PM
Change Management for the Program Coordinator
Faculty: Maria Moreira, Saadia Akhtar
Program Coordinators are poised to be change agents for residency programs. They have institutional memory and are fully dedicated to the administration of the program.

2:05 PM – 2:45 PM
The Examined Interview Day
Faculty: Benjamin Schnapp, Sarah Fallon
The interview day is a critical face of your residency: get it right and you’ll recruit a class that will pay dividends to your program for years. What are applicants looking for when they visit? This collaborative workshop will discuss the literature and what programs can learn from applicants.

2:45 PM – 3:15 PM
Mentorship Guide for Your Program Coordinator
Faculty: Saadia Akhtar, Maria Moreira
Mentorship is important for growth and career advancement. The mentor/mentee relationship is very important, and the first step is identifying the right mentor. Additionally, there are skills that can help each of us succeed as mentors and mentees.

2:45 PM – 3:15 PM
Facilitating Feedback: Increasing Compliance with End of Shift Feedback
Faculty: Michael Gottlieb, Sreeja Natesan
Feedback is crucial to success in training. Facilitating feedback from residents, faculty, and nursing staff can be difficult to promote compliance and adherence. This lecture will highlight key strategies residency coordinators can use to engage members to be effective and timely in giving feedback.

2:45 PM – 3:15 PM
Orientation Station: How to Master the Art of Onboarding
Faculty: Chelsea Harrison PANEL: Sarah Fallon
Incoming Residents...what do you do?
- Review why Orientation is necessary.
- Establish a process
- Obtain tools to help you and your program orientate/ on-board your new interns

3:30 PM – 4:10 PM
Coach Others with S-W-O-T
Faculty: Denise Lesniak
SWOT analysis also applies to work. A coordinator is influenced by internal and external factors, and their impact leads to coordinator success. Just like Self-Study, coordinators can realize opportunities and mitigate threats. Coaching strategies lessen weaknesses and help strengths listed in SWOT.

3:30 PM – 4:10 PM
Table Talks for the New PC: 360 & Semi-Annual Evaluations, Didactics & ERAS Tips
Faculty: Amborsya Amlong PANEL: Kailey Bartrum; Raven-Olivia Jackson; Lisa Herald
Identify resources that will improve day to day work. Application of skills for the experts. Develop a larger community of resources/practices.

4:15 PM – 5:00 PM
Let’s Acronym Together
Faculty: Denise Lesniak
There is an increase in listening and understanding when using communication formats. Often used acronyms like SBAR can be used by coordinators when communicating to program directors and other providers. The session demonstrates the benefits of the acronym formats when followed.

8:00 AM – 8:50 AM
Infographics Didactic & Workshop
Faculty: Teresa Chan, Alvin Chin, Simon Huang
Infographics are the latest rage in medical education as a form of presenting content that is easy to digest and memorable. Attend this hands-on session to learn what makes infographics such as powerful educational tool, how to an educator can create infographics, and how to best teach with them.

9:00 AM – 9:30 AM
More Than Meets the Eye: Virtual Reality in Medical Education
Faculty: Michael Barrie, Tim Koboldt, Warren Wiechman
Virtual reality is an emerging technology to provide immersive educational experiences. Programs will soon have the opportunity to provide high fidelity simulation on a lower budget using VR simulation. This hands-on session will demonstrate the latest and greatest in VR technology.

9:30 AM – 10:30 AM
Learning By Design: Running Your Own Design Thinking Workshop
Faculty: Teresa Chan, Mike Gottlieb, Rob Cooney, Alex Chorley
Design Thinking (DT) is a method for creating improvements in products or services that is growing in popularity within medical education. As a method, DT involves a more inclusive and experimentation-oriented technique. However, it can be overwhelming to try to run a session at your own institution without training. This session will discuss DT principles and how to effectively run a session at your institution. Attendees will leave the session ready to host their own DT session.

10:45 AM – 11:30 AM
Top i-Med Papers
Faculty: Jeff Riddell, Teresa Chan, Michael Gottlieb, Jon Ilgen
It can be challenging to keep up with the ever-increasing medical education literature. This session will highlight some of the top innovative and game-changing papers in medical education and discuss how to apply this to your practice.

11:30 AM – 12:00 PM
Critically-Analyzing Cutting Edge Literature: A Group Peer Review Breakout Session
Faculty: Jeff Riddell, Teresa Chan, Mike Gottlieb, Jon Ilgen
This session will be a hands-on group peer review workshop with medical education editors and topic experts performing group peer review on cutting-edge articles with a focus on innovation in medical education.
Beyond the Lecture Hall: Novel Teaching Strategies Using Gamification
Faculty: Dimitrios Papapagou, Teresa Chan, Tony Zhang
Educators frequently look for ideas that embrace adult learning theory. The session examines gamification as a tool to design content for learners in EM. We will review best practices; describe how gamification can achieve these practices; and emphasize its ability to support knowledge application.

2:05 PM – 3:30 PM
So You Want to Record a Podcast?
Faculty: Jeff Riddell, Andy Little
Podcasting is not just for those who love the sound of their own voice, it is an excellent way to teach! Whether you want to record a couple episodes to flip the classroom, or you want to create and sustain a medical education podcast for the masses, this workshop will show you how to make it happen.

2:05 PM – 3:30 PM
So You Want to Be a Public Speaker?
Faculty: Mike Gisondi, Glenn Paetow
Public speaking can be scary — come listen to three public speakers in different stages of their careers share stories about how a few public speaking nightmares helped them overcome their fears. In this workshop, you will learn the skills needed to become the most excellent public speaker you know that you were always meant to be! This workshop will be a very engaging, very safe place to make mistakes and have fun with the process of developing a speech.

3:35 PM – 5:00 PM
So You Want to Write a Blog?
Faculty: Jay Khadpe, Manny Singh, Jeffrey Hill, David Marcus
Blogs are all the rage these days. Come to this workshop to learn how to create and sustain a blog that can be used in medical education. Develop the skills to contribute to the growing world of FOAM and online medical education.

3:35 PM – 5:00 PM
So You Want to Enhance Your Slides?
Faculty: Annahita Kalantari, Rahul Patwari, Tyson Pillow
Ever hear of death by powerpoint? It doesn’t have to be that way! Come to this workshop to learn how to get the umph back in your slides and wow your audience. Learn the skills to create dazzling slides and presentations.

Navigating the Academic Waters (NAW)

8:00 AM – 8:50 AM
Getting Started in Medical Education Research
Faculty: Jaime Jordan
Recent literature has called for increased methodologic rigor in education research, however many educators lack formal research training. This session will be a practical overview of how to get started in medical education research, adhering to rigorous methodological standards.

9:00 AM – 10:00 AM
Meeting of the Minds: The Power of Creating a Mastermind Group
Faculty: Sreeca Natesan, Charlotte Lawson; Glenn Paetow; Michael Gottlieb; PANEL: Gretchen Fuller, Fareen Zaver
Mastermind Groups are becoming a staple of “Near Peer” mentorship in the business world. Learn how Mastermind Groups can be leveraged to advance your career, as well as the career of your peers.

10:00 AM – 10:30 AM
Leadership Lessons from a Year with the Philadelphia Eagles
Faculty: Yvonne Chow
Professional football and academic emergency medicine may not intersect at first glance. The speaker will share leadership lessons gained from a year of working with the Philadelphia Eagles football team, and discuss how they can be applied to advance a career in academic emergency medicine.

10:45 AM – 11:15 AM
So You Want to Play in the Big Leagues: Transcribing the Unwritten Rules of Academic Politics for Young Attendings
Faculty: Matt Hall, Nicole Dubosh
Young attendings are fully prepared to care for clinically complex patients after graduation. However, success in an academic department requires more than just hard work. A host of unwritten rules and expectations, when followed, will allow young attendings to succeed in a complex academic world.

11:15 AM – 12:00 PM
Role and Impact of Gender and Ethnicity in Mentoring
Faculty: Danya Khoujah, Tarlan Hedayati, Dhara Amin
This session will focus on issues in Cross-Gender and Cross-Ethnic Mentoring. This will include identifying gender-based stereotypes in the mentoring relationship (including gender-based assumptions of both mentees and mentors), the impact of these perceptions on career development and advancement, and tips on overcoming gender bias in the mentoring relationship. We will also discuss practical tips to cultivate cross-cultural and cross-gender mentoring relationships, whether as a mentor, mentee or stakeholder.

1:30 PM – 2:00 PM
Anchors Up! Avoiding Cognitive Bias: Teaching Strategies for the Clinician Educator
Faculty: Leslie Bilello, Nicole Dubosh, Jennifer Singleton
Physicians are often constrained by limited time and information and may rely on cognitive heuristics. Traditional didactics and bedside teaching often lack explicit instruction regarding such biases. We will teach strategic critical thinking skills to avoid cognitive biases and clinical errors.

2:05 PM – 2:35 PM
Turning Your Passions into Scholarship
Faculty: Tim Koboldt, Michael Barrie
Developing a niche in academic EM is important. Learner needs and rapidly developing technologies provide new areas and roles for faculty. This session will describe combining your passions within and even outside of emergency medicine to cultivate a niche that is sustainable and enjoyable.

2:45 PM – 3:15 PM
“iTeach” — A Method for Teaching On Shift
Faculty: David Masneri
“iTeach” is a method of effective on-shift teaching in the ED. “iTeach” provides a framework and tactics that can be utilized to better engage and educate targeted learners. Using the code letter “I”, this method provides pearls to improve teaching success and learner satisfaction.

3:30 PM – 3:50 PM
Combining Powers: A Collaborative Conference Strategy
Faculty: Ryanne Myersak, David Jones
We designed a collaborative conference with our cardiology department to discuss issues that arise in the diagnosis and management of our combined cohort of patients. This session would describe how we implemented this curriculum, and how the model could be used for similar combined curricula.
3:50 PM – 4:10 PM
Morning Report—A Time to SNAP
Faculty: Cynthia Price
This session will describe a small group session we developed we term a SNAP group: Share, Nything and Process. The group is a collaboration between psychiatry residents and fellows at our institution that meets during morning report every other Friday to get our residents talking about scenarios that impact themselves or their patients during their shifts.

4:15 PM – 5:00 PM
Teaching to Talk so You Can Talk to Teach
Faculty: Jason Wagner, Ed Ullman
Public speaking for many is a “necessary evil” in academic medicine. Many of us try to cram too much content into too little time. This session will discuss both theoretical as well as practical approaches to increasing audience retention of the content you deliver.

New Programs & Leaders (NPL)

8:00 AM – 8:50 AM
Due Process of Physicians and Resident Following Major Program Disruption
Faculty: Douglas Char, Mary Ann Edens, Linette Archer, Shawn London, Megan Healy, Melissa Platt
Multiple situations can disrupt clinical operations and impact a residency. Multiple employment models exist for faculty. What is the individual’s due process rights? The hospital and RRC’s responsibility to faculty and residents vary widely. Do you know your rights and avenues for due process?

1:30 PM – 2:35 PM
Coaching Residents: Competencies and Insights from Professional Coaches
Faculty: Melissa Platt, Magdalena Robak, Natasha Wheaton, Jeremy Branzetti, Dana Ferguson
Combined BP & NPL
While we often use the term “mentoring,” many of our contacts with residents as educational faculty are in fact, examples of coaching. This talk highlights the recent focus on “coaching” as a valuable construct for learner development in medical education. The speakers will cut through the best of coaching advice from the sports literature and relate it to the professional coaching of our residents. This talk goes straight to the source, gaining insight into coaching practices from professional coaches, drawing from advice and philosophies of famous Hall of Fame coaches.

2:45 PM – 3:15 PM
Innovations in Remediation and Mentoring
Faculty: Teresa Smith; Guy Carmelli
There is a variety of ways that an EM residency program director may remediate their learners in different ways. As learning methods evolve, so too should we see innovation in how we remediate learners when necessary. The goal of the current talk to discuss innovative ways to tailor remediation plans towards each learner’s needs, to remediate learners based on their educational and career needs as well as their personality types.

3:30 PM – 3:50 PM
ESCAPED — Explore Synergy, Communication, and Partnership in Emergency Department
Faculty: Cami Pfennig
This session will explain how the ‘Escape Room’ experience can promote effective communication skills and enhance teamwork in the ED setting. The ESCAPED [Explore Synergy, Communication, And Partnership in Emergency Department] curriculum will be discussed to help others implement an analogous lesson plan at their home residency program. The speaker will present data to demonstrate how communication skills evolve after completing the ESCAPED experience.

Day Four
Wednesday, April 3, 2019

Speciality

8:00 AM – 9:00 AM
Best of the Best
Faculty: Bo Burns, Jeffrey Siegelman
Combined all Tracks
The CORD community develops high quality research every year. This year we are going to highlight the very best abstracts submitted to the CORD research and innovations forums. In this session selected presenters will discuss their novel research from both undergraduate and graduate medical education. The session is intended for all tracks to attend.

9:00 AM – 10:15 AM
Program and Clerkship Director Survival Stories
Faculty: Sharon Bord, Madonna Fernandez, Tiffany Murano
Discussion of real-world challenging situations that Program Directors and Clerkship Directors have experiences.

Best Practices (BP)

10:30 AM – 11:10 AM
Developing a Curricular Toolkit for Broad Programmatic Dissemination
Faculty: Holly Caretta-Wyer, Sasha Tichter
The CORD Education Committee was tasked by the Board to develop curricular toolkits for dissemination to all EM programs. We will have performed a broad needs assessment, developed a toolkit template, and formulated a toolkit. The deliverables include being able to utilize a curricular toolkit framework for developing new curricula as well as the ability to provide feedback on our template and first toolkit for dissemination.

11:10 AM – 11:30 AM
Coaching and Mentorship 220
Faculty: Leslie Oyama, Jeremy Branzetti, Barbara Blok, Bonnie Kaplan, Page Bridges, Sarah Farris, Mark Pittman
CORD 220 sessions are [2] talks with a common theme that are given in succession over 20 minutes. The focus of this 220 session is to focus on Coaching and Mentoring.
Coaching faculty on new teaching processes in the ED: Implementing recommendations from a Resident Experience RPM

• Learn to use process improvement methodology to implement change in the educational environment of an academic ED
• Learn strategies for coaching faculty and staff to change their teaching behaviors in the ED
• Gain knowledge about using ED operational leadership to enhance the clinical learning environment

Creating a Productivity and Lateral Mentoring (PALM) Small Group

• Describe the functions and benefits of a Productivity And Lateral Mentoring group
• List the qualities you would want in your PALM group members
• Outline at least 3 career and/or wellness goals that you would want to address in a PALM group
• Describe the systematic process of identifying goals, creating deliverables, and reviewing them regularly as part of the PALM process

11:30 AM – 12:00 PM
Curricular Ideas 330
Faculty: Leslie Oyama; Jeremy Branzetti, Andrew King; Benjamin Ostro, Rochelle Zarzar, Glenn Paetow, Gannon Sungar
CORD 330 Sessions are [2] talks with a common theme that are given in succession over 30 minutes. The selected theme of this 330 session are Curricular Ideas.

A New Model for Morbidity and Mortality Conference: The Prospective Approach

• Discuss an alternative approach to morbidity and mortality conference with a stronger focus on cognitive autopsy and de-biasing strategies.
• Describe the advantages of a novel, prospective approach to analyze cases during didactics.
• Demonstrate how to effectively incorporate small group discussions into the morbidity and mortality conference as a method to increase resident engagement and solidify knowledge on cognitive errors and de-biasing strategies.

What is that Lurking in the Shadows — a Latent Risk Threat? Using Simulation as a Framework for Quality Improvement!

• Describe how in-situ simulation can be used as a means for quality improvement in your emergency department and discuss strategies for implementation.
• Describe latent risk threats (LRTs) and active errors and develop a framework for tracking and addressing the issues identified during these simulation activities, 3.
• Recognize that not conducting these quality improvement simulations could adversely affect your patient safety and outcomes, as there are many LRTs lurking — you just have to find them.

Evidence-Based Teaching: Applying Adult Learning Theory to Improve your Presentation

The goal of this session is to arm attendees with the foundational knowledge in adult learning theory to provide better presentations. Following completion of this session, attendees will be able to:
• Describe evidence-based principles in adult learning theory relevant to large group presentations
• Explain why traditional presentations often fail to capitalize on best practices in adult learning theory
• Discuss changes that can be made to their next lecture to maximize audience engagement and learning

12:00 PM – 12:30 PM
Leadership and Advancement 330
Faculty: Leslie Oyama, Jeremy Branzetti, Guy Carmelli, Theresa Tran, Neha Raukar
CORD 330 Sessions are [3] talks with a common theme that are given in succession over 30 minutes. The theme of this 330 session is Leadership and Advancement.

Residents as Leaders — Allowing Senior Residents to Get Maximally Involved

• Describe the increasing need for more and more senior resident involvement in leadership roles and residency education
• Discuss strategies for involving senior residents in leadership roles, thus preparing them for a career in academics and administration

Leader as Servant — Applying Servant Leadership in the ED

• Understand the theory of servant leadership
• Apply principles of servant leadership in the academic setting
• Gain tools to teach others to be servant leaders

Sitting at the Head of the Table

• Identify gender differences in communication and common communication practices and pitfalls. Identify individual expectations for leadership communication styles and how this may lead to gender stereotypes
• Discuss the importance of understanding the communication strategies used by different members of your team
• Identify communication strategies for developing leadership skills using gender neutral communication styles for residents and faculty

Navigating the Academic Waters (NAW)

10:30 AM – 10:50 AM
Make It Stick in Emergency Medicine
Faculty: Jordan Spector

10:50 AM – 11:10 AM
It’s Like Herding Cats: Tips for Collaboration for Research Projects With Other Specialties
Faculty: Leah Bright, Katja Goldflam; Kamna Balhara
Collaboration with people in different specialties or non-physicians within your own can create productive working relationships and help expand your horizons. Finding the right fit when options are challenging. We will outline how to create a productive relationship.

11:10 AM – 11:30 AM
Adults are Just Big Kids: Learning Theories and Practical Ways to Improve Your Teaching
Faculty: Andrew Phillips, Tyson Pillow
What does learning sciences and cognitive psychology research on children tell us about adult learners? It turns out an awful lot! Explore how the mind and body are inseparable to encode knowledge and how context influences how and what we learn.

11:30 AM – 12:30 PM
Technology Enhanced Bedside Teaching — Practical Tips to Improve Teaching on Your Next Shift
Faculty: Tyson Pillow
Bedside teaching is essential to clinical training. Unfortunately, many educators struggle to incorporate bedside teaching, especially given the demands of the EMR, metrics, and lack of compensation. This session will give practical tips to incorporate technology to enhance bedside teaching.
AIRWAY: TRUE STORIES FROM THE ER

Sunday, March 31, 2019
8:00 PM - 10:00 PM

Palace Ballroom
2100 5th Ave
Seattle, WA 98121

This is a live storytelling event for EM physicians designed with the goals of creating community, embracing vulnerability, and normalizing difficult experiences common to the practice of emergency medicine.

Sponsored by CORD & RSA

Exciting Career Opportunity in Las Vegas

Academic Faculty: Assistant Research Director

The University of Nevada, Las Vegas (UNLV) Department of Emergency Medicine is seeking talented emergency medicine physicians with a passion for education to join the faculty of its EM residency program. Established in 2006, the 3-year EM program has an affiliation with the Air Force, and is comprised of 30 residents, including 2 active duty military residents each year. We pride ourselves in the tremendous sense of camaraderie within our Emergency Department at University Medical Center (UMC) of Southern Nevada, which serves as the only Level I Trauma Center and Burn Center in the state of Nevada and the primary teaching site for the UNLV School of Medicine, with 30 residency programs. The Adult ED and Trauma Resuscitation Center have a combined annual volume of 90,000, serving a diverse patient population with conditions of high complexity and acuity, in addition to the 30,000 children evaluated annually in the separate Pediatric ED.

This is a tremendous opportunity from both an academic and clinical perspective, for motivated individuals with an interest in a career in research and education, in a department that already includes a well-established research program with approximately 30 research assistants. Come join our faculty who are actively engaged in both education and community service, with a sincere dedication to training the next generation of emergency medicine providers. Residency faculty have an academic appointment within the UNLV School of Medicine, and are employed by US Acute Care Solutions.

The MACM program taught me everything I needed to know to be a medical educator. Not only did we learn about medical education and research, but we also delved into professional development, which has been invaluable in my leadership positions. I chose the MACM instead of one of the other MHPE programs because it seemed to cover everything the MHPEs covered, but the electives seemed more applicable to someone who wanted to be a program director in the future. I was able to gain invaluable skills, many of which I use on a regular basis. I strongly recommend this program for anyone interested in medical education, and especially for those interested in program leadership.

Riverside Regional Medical Center
Newport News, VA

is accepting applications from qualified academic emergency physicians to join an energetic faculty for a new emergency medicine residency program expected to begin in July 2020 contingent upon ACGME accreditation. The program is led by an experienced academic emergency physician with a long history of exceptional educational and leadership accomplishments to include prior Program Director, Designated Institutional Official, and almost 30 years of military service.

Riverside Regional Medical Center is a busy, high acuity, Level II Trauma Center, Stroke and Chest Pain Center located in beautiful, historic Newport News Virginia that has a long history of community service and graduate medical education, hosting one of the first Family Medicine training programs in the country. The institution has put its full support behind this residency program, adding to its longstanding Family Medicine, Obstetrics and Gynecology, and Transitional year programs.

To hear first hand about our program while at the CORD conference, contact Kevin Knoop, MD, Program Director (text: 757 532-3997; email: kevin.knoop@rivhs.com)

About the Lehigh Valley

Set amid gentle hills and charming country sides, Lehigh Valley, PA is home to Allentown, Bethlehem, and Easton, as well as dozens of small towns and picturesque boroughs, parks, trails, and waterways. Steeped in pre-Colonial, Early American, and industrial history, the region’s storied past became its uplifting present, bestowing visitors anything from crayons and craft beer to Martin Guitars and museums, covered bridges, and nationally-recognized events like Musikfest and Christkindlmarkt.

The Lehigh Valley is in close proximity to NYC, Philly, and DC. Outstanding higher education facilities include Lehigh University and Moravian College. Cost of living is low and coupled with minimal congestion; choose among a variety of charming urban, semi-urban and rural communities your family will enjoy calling home. There is easy access to outdoor activities like skiing, snowboarding, white water rafting, and zip lining. The Lehigh Valley encompasses three unique cities in one suburban area.
