

CORD EM 2019 (4/2/19)

Title: Securing an away rotation in emergency medicine: a survey on the applicant experience and perspective

Authors: Xiao Chi Zhang, Ronnie Ron, David Wilson, Doug Franzen, Lucienne Lutfy-Clayton, Josh Wallenstein, David Gordon

CME Questions: (answers BOLDED)

1. What are the biggest contributing factors to emergency medicine (EM)-bound student in over applying for audition (aka. away) rotations?
 - a. Advice from peers going into EM
 - b. Advice from peers from an online network (i.e. Student Doctor Network)
 - c. Couples matching
 - d. Self-assessment of personal competitiveness
 - e. ALL of the ABOVE
2. True/False - MD and DO of equal competitiveness should apply to the same number of programs
3. When is the highest yield for applicants?
 - a. Jan-Feb
 - b. Mar-Apr
 - c. May-later
4. On average, how many away rotation applications should a LOW COMPETITIVE EM-bound student apply to get one away rotation offer?
 - a. 3
 - b. 4
 - c. 5
 - d. 6
 - e. 7 or more
5. What is the most influencing personal factor in REDUCING student away rotation applications?
 - a. Advice from EM faculty/mentors
 - b. Application cost
 - c. Housing/transportation cost
 - d. Personal geographic limitations
 - e. Organizational or Faculty online advising resources (i.e. EMRA Hangout, CORD Advising Resources, EM Advisor)