As Match Week unfolds, CORD recognizes that this is a pivotal time for our community. While many programs are getting ready to welcome their new residents, others may be navigating the SOAP. We want to acknowledge the significant work being done by program leaders, faculty, and coordinators across the country during this important week.

CORD stands firmly with all of our programs and is committed to supporting the emergency medicine education community throughout Match Week. For programs participating in SOAP, we encourage you to take advantage of the resources developed to help guide both programs and applicants through this process. These tools were created by leaders in our community to provide practical support and clear guidance during this critical time.

Available resources include:

- No Match Monday Emergency Medicine Advising Guide
- No Match Monday Emergency Medicine Advising Guide: Program Directors Edition
- ResidencyCAS Applicant SOAP Guide
- ResidencyCAS Program SOAP Guide

To our members navigating SOAP this week: you are not alone. CORD remains committed to supporting you, your teams, and the learners who will shape the future of our specialty.
